GRANTEE AGREEMENT

IGA-RC001-11-0166-01

Between The
Navajo Nation Regional Partnership Council,
Arizona Early Childhood Development and Health Board
(First Things First)
And
Northland Pioneer College

WHEREAS, A.R.S. Title 8, Chapter 13, Article 3 charges the Arizona Early Childhood Development and Health Board (also known as First Things First), the Navajo Nation Regional Partnership Council (hereinafter referred to as GRANTOR) with the responsibility of administering funds.

THEREFORE, it is agreed that the GRANTOR shall provide funding to Northland Pioneer College (hereinafter referred to as the GRANTEE) for services under the terms of this Grant Agreement.

I. PURPOSE OF AGREEMENT

The purpose of this Agreement is to specify the responsibilities and procedures for the GRANTEE role in administering Arizona Early Childhood Development and Health Board grant funds.

II. TERM OF AGREEMENT, TERMINATION AND AMENDMENTS

This Agreement shall become effective on October 1, 2010 and shall terminate on June 30, 2011. This agreement is renewable for two (2) additional twelve (12) month extensions, based on satisfactory performance and continued available funding.

III. DESCRIPTION OF SERVICES

The GRANTEE shall provide the following services for the GRANTOR as approved and summarized below:

A. Scope of Work
Increasing opportunities for the professional development of the early childhood workforce on the Nation is one of the top priorities of the Navajo Nation Regional Partnership Council. The key to quality child care is linked to the education and work-place stability of those teaching the youngest children. The preparation and ongoing professional development of early educators is a fundamental component of a high quality early learning system.

Currently, many of the child care centers on the Navajo Nation have workforce issues. Many of those working in the centers are not yet adequately trained and educated in the early childhood field. Some centers are closed due to lack of available staff who are qualified to teach young children. Many more young children on the Nation would have access to early care and education if the number of qualified educators could be increased.

The Navajo Nation Regional Partnership Council is working to ensure that the whole continuum of educational opportunities, from the national Child Development Associate (CDA) Credential to a Masters Degree, are available to those in (and interested in joining) the early childhood workforce on the Nation. This agreement, however, focuses solely on the CDA preparation and credentialing for those already in the early childhood field. This CDA-Professional Development Project meets a clear need and will provide a foundation on which to build a more comprehensive professional development action plan.

There are many considerations which must be addressed in the delivery of the CDA Professional Development Project:

- The Diné Language and Culture must be infused in the training, coursework, and mentoring.
- Teachers of the courses must be highly qualified to teach the coursework and must be strong in the Diné Culture and Language.
- The vast geography of the Navajo Nation, the remote location of potential students and the issue of travel must be addressed.
- Coursework must be scheduled at times and in ways that are accessible to early childhood teachers.
- Academic supports such as tutoring, coaching, and advisement must be provided.
- Financial supports such as scholarships and money for books must be available for those who qualify.
- Child care or any other supports to help ensure the students' success must be considered and addressed.
- A funding match of 20% (may be in-kind) will be required of the administrative home for this strategy.
- The project implementation shall abide by the First Things First Community Based Professional Development for Early Care and Education Professionals and the First Things First Scholarships other than TEACH CDA, Associate in Arts and Associate in Science Degrees Standards of Practice.

B. CDA Professional Development Project

Northland Pioneer College’s Early Childhood Program will address the needs outlined within the Scope of Work. The goal of the Navajo First Things First CDA Professional Development Project is to improve the quality of care provided to young Navajo children by CDA credentialied child care providers and early educators. This Project will assist in the building of a skilled and well prepared early childhood development workforce.

Northland Pioneer College (NPC) will address the need to increase the number of trained, credentialied child care/early educators within the early childhood programs on the Navajo Nation within Arizona by preparing these providers to successfully complete the CDA credential within the proposed delivery sites of Fort Defiance and Chinle Agency. This project will further enhance the development of quality child care and the use of resources for providers who would not normally have taken advantage of these professional development opportunities on their own. This Project will provide:

1. Clustered early childhood sessions and on site delivery sessions to 15 enrolled participants of Fort Defiance Agency and 15 enrolled participants of Chinle Agency. After successful completion, participants will apply for the CDA assessment from the Council for Early Childhood Professional Recognition, Washington, DC.

2. Assessment of professional development and other college coursework in order for participants to begin the CDA process where they currently are based on evaluation of college transcripts, prior professional development and training, and readiness for CDA assessment.

3. After completion of their CDA Credential, participants will receive advisement on how to continue working towards their early childhood Associates’ degree. Financial aid information and assistance will be provided to each participant regarding resources to continue their educational pursuits.

The project will begin with a planning period during the Summer of 2010. During this planning period, the NPC Early Childhood Program Chair will meet with program administrators to plan and develop the project, including:

- Development of recruitment materials
- Selection of participants
- Participant advisement based on a review of professional development and training records, and transcripts

The project will consist of clustered professional development sessions beginning in the Fall 2010 semester and continuing into the Spring 2011 semester with both clustered sessions and bi-weekly on-site visits by faculty for the proposed 30 registered participants within the Fort Defiance and Chinle Agency sites. The selected Early Childhood/CDA training modules will focus on the 13 CDA functional areas. ECD 270: CDA Assessment preparation will assist the participants in preparing for their CDA Credential; this consists of the faculty completing the CDA Advisor’s observation booklet, the candidates’ completion of their Professional Resource File, collection of parent questionnaires, development of an autobiography and writing the six competency statements in which the candidates describe their goals for working with children and their activities to meet those goals. Prior to enrollment, applicants for the CDA Professional Development Project will have their transcripts reviewed by NPC’s Program Chair to determine what courses need to be completed, if they have already completed some related coursework that meets the requirements for endorsements (Home Visitor, Infant/Toddler and/or Preschool CDA).

NPC will utilize the CDA curriculum developed by Central Arizona College, an effective curriculum used for many years with many educators, care givers, parents, etc., who successfully earned their CDA Credential, certificate of completion, and degree. The workshops will be held weekly at participant’s convenience or at Agency training days during the day time and/or evenings at sites within the Fort Defiance and Chinle Agencies. The introduction will begin initially in clustered sessions with an assigned faculty who will provide individualized follow-up at the site of the care-giver. Workshops will consist of lecture and hands-on application of the material learned. Observation of the participants by the NPC instructors/CDA Advisors will be an integral part of the project.
Recruitment Plan:
NPC’s Early Childhood Program Chair will meet with Navajo Nation Head Start and Navajo CCDF program administrators to develop strategies to recruit 15 participants each from Fort Defiance and Chinle Agency. (There will be no supplanting or duplication of educational opportunities already provided or able to be provided by Head Start). Applicants must have a high school diploma or GED, be currently working with children birth to age five and be willing to commit to pursuing a CDA Credential. They must be able to read and write well enough to write their autobiography and six competency statements and successfully pass a 60 item written multiple choice test (Early Childhood Studies Review) based upon knowledge of young children, birth to age five. Following completion of the professional development sessions and an application for assessment, they must also be willing to participate in an interview with a CDA National representative who will conduct the CDA assessment process.

Evaluation Plan:
- Number of participants successfully completing CDA coursework with grades of “C” or higher
- Attendance of participants at clustered trainings
- Attendance of participants during on site visits and observations
- Number of participants applying for CDA assessment
- Number of CDA Credentials awarded
- Number of early childhood staff, with new CDA Credentials, continuing to work towards additional certificates/degrees

FIRST THINGS FIRST
Community-Based Professional Development
for Early Care and Education Professionals
Standards of Practice

Because young children, including infants and toddlers, spend so much time in early care and education settings outside their own homes, it is especially important to ensure that the professionals responsible for their early care and education have the tools and skills to promote learning and healthy social and emotional development, and know how to help when development is not progressing as it should. The preparation and ongoing professional development of early educators is a fundamental component of a high quality early learning system. The education and training of teachers and administrators is strongly related to early childhood program quality, and program quality predicts development outcomes for children.¹

However, early care and education professionals are often nontraditional learners who benefit from a range of professional development supports. First Things First recognizes the need to provide a variety of options to engage early care and education professionals in professional development. In addition to college coursework, other formats of professional development can encourage individuals who have been away from formal schooling to return to the classroom.

While community-based professional development has not been well evaluated, it does provide another logical stepping stone to more formal and credit bearing professional development. Participants will be encouraged and supported to eventually continue their education through college credit coursework and/or participation in T.E.A.C.H and Quality First! All professional development opportunities will be required to show successful outcomes, either through an assessment process, achievement of milestones, or a follow-up visit by a mentor or coach to determine if professional practice has been changed based upon what was learned.

First Things First invites innovative and creative ways to provide high quality professional development to the early care and education workforce in Arizona. The broad nature of this strategy allows stakeholders to collaborate in a variety of innovative and creative ways to increase access to quality community-based professional development opportunities. Models of community-based professional development may focus on enhancing leadership and administrative skills among child care administrators in order to enhance program quality. Additionally, grantees may pursue other approaches to professional development, such as the use of cohorts for participants, single day seminars, or multi-day trainings that are held over the course of several months. While these programs come in different forms, they have a common goal of increasing the level of preparation and skill of early care and education providers, and encouraging them to pursue certification and college degrees in the field.

Research demonstrates that the most effective types of professional development approaches include content-based workshops as well as hands-on, one-on-one mentoring or coaching, also referred to as "consultation."

¹ Ohio Department of Education (January 2006). Critical Issues in Early Educator Professional and Workforce Development. Columbus: OH. This paper was funded by the Department under the Commission of the School Readiness Solutions Group, and was developed by Jana Fleming.
A national, multi-state evaluation on consulting as professional development concluded that on-site consultation resulted in improvements for both center-based care as well as family child care on factors on Harms' environmental rating scales. Further, formal professional development is related to increased quality care; however, experience without formal training has not been found to be related to quality care. Therefore, the value of applying theory to practice is a key element of community-based professional development.

While each First Things First funded community-based professional development program may be uniquely designed, they all have a valuable role to play in meeting the complex needs of early care and education professionals, families, and communities across the State of Arizona. First Things First focuses on programs and services that provide children with the best opportunities for school and life success.

First Things First funded programs may supplement but not supplant other state expenditures on, and federal monies received for early childhood development and health programs. Funding decisions are based upon a robust process of review to ensure programs are supported by research, value the family and use approaches considered to be best practice.

Applicants in regions that contain federally-designated tribal areas must describe their outreach activities for early care and education providers within tribal communities.

- Identify and coordinate with existing training opportunities within the region.
- Conduct trainings based on best practices and research, giving consideration to:
  - Utilizing subject matter experts (visiting faculty, published authors, researchers, etc.) to enhance training content and delivery;
  - The frequency and sequence of training sessions;
  - Having specific identified outcomes that participants must achieve and assessing those outcomes for each participant before documentation of completion is awarded.
• Provide professional development sessions that are interactive, model desired behaviors, and address the multiple learning styles of adult learners.
  o Topics should address the core competency areas identified by the National Council for Professional Recognition. At a minimum, topics must include:
    ▪ Understanding the 5 domains of early childhood development, including early childhood special education
    ▪ Observing, documenting, and assessing children's behaviors
    ▪ Ensuring safe and healthy learning environments
    ▪ Upholding ethical and professional standards
    ▪ Utilizing developmentally appropriate practices
    ▪ Advancing physical and intellectual competence
    ▪ Supporting social/emotional development and using positive guidance techniques
    ▪ Establishing respectful, positive, and productive relationships with families ▪ Ensuring a well-run purposeful program responsive to child and family needs o Additional training topics may include, but are not limited to:
    ▪ Sensory integration, behavioral health, and special needs
    ▪ Role of creativity in learning
    ▪ Role of materials in the classroom
    ▪ Role of the arts in cognitive and social emotional growth and development
    ▪ Role of the environment and environmental design in children's learning
    ▪ Role of the teacher/educator as researcher
    ▪ Significance of play
    ▪ Written and oral communication skills of providers
• Design and implement an assessment process to determine the extent to which the training has enhanced the knowledge and professional practice of program participants.
• Ensure that community-based trainings meet requirements of the National Council for Professional Recognition (for the Child Development Associate), and the standard requirements for transfer of credit to a certificate or degree in early care and education (or a related field) at the community colleges. In order to facilitate the process for approval of college credit for community-based trainings, grantees will need to identify one representative to participate in a statewide advisory committee that will inform First Things First regarding the requirements for the approval of college credit. First Things First will create the advisory committee once grantees have been identified. The advisory committee may meet either in person or by other means of communication such as telephonically, live meeting, etc.
• Maintain flexibility and responsiveness to emerging issues in the community and the early childhood field.
  o Recruit staff from the community who has extensive knowledge of community resources.
  o Recruit staff that reflect the cultural and ethnic experiences and language of the participants, and integrate their expertise into the program.
  o Develop a collaborative, coordinated response to community needs.
  o Be accessible for program participants.
  o Ensure a manageable classroom size and appropriate staffing patterns.
• Ensure the provision of high-quality professional development opportunities through experienced and responsive staff.
For those grant opportunities that include mentoring/coaching for administrators/practitioners, grantees will, as applicable, need to:

- Establish a mentoring program that includes effective/proven components of mentoring and that views mentoring as a “core component of professional development—a replacement for less effective training modalities, rather than an additional service.”
- Identify selection criteria for mentors/coaches and participating administrators/practitioners
- Include roles, responsibilities, and expectations of mentors/coaches and participating administrators/practitioners
- Develop cohorts of participants
- Create a clear and multi-direction communication system
- Develop individualized professional development plans
- Establish mechanisms that support on-going professional development and support for mentors and participants
- Provide mentoring/coaching, to administrators, that supports leadership development and administrative competency
- Provide mentoring/coaching, to practitioners, that supports development of self confidence and self-efficacy in teaching (a belief in one’s ability to be effective with children and families)
- Develop on-site or near-site trainings for center administrators that address fiscal administration, systems management, human resource development, and related administrative skills/tasks
- Design an evaluation process to assess system efficacy

For those grant opportunities that include conference scholarships, grantees will, as applicable, need to:

- Ensure that trainings offered at conferences meet requirements of the National Council for Professional Recognition (for the Child Development Associate).
- Include opportunities for providers to meet with each other to develop relationships that will provide support that extends beyond the conference schedule.
- Include innovative methods to remove barriers and increase child care provider participation. This may include scholarship and/or travel stipends to remove financial barriers to attendance.
- Be responsible for reviewing requests and making scholarship/travel stipend awards. In no way will scholarships or stipends supplant other professional development resources and opportunities that exist in the region.

Providers of community based professional development are expected to partner with First Things First during all stages of planning and implementation, and with local early care and education professionals and other early care and education stakeholders in developing and marketing the program. They will also be required to demonstrate a willingness to work with First Things First Regional Partnership Councils via the Regional Coordinator structure and the systems of communications established by First Things First. In order to document progress towards successful implementation and the achievement of specified goals and outcomes, programs will also be required to function within the framework of First Things First evaluation efforts.

To address cultural competency objectives, early childhood practitioners/early childhood service providers shall ensure that children and families receive from all staff members effective, understandable, and respectful care that is provided in a culturally competent manner—a manner compatible with their cultural beliefs and practices and preferred language. Early childhood practitioners/early childhood service providers should ensure that staff at all levels and across all disciplines receive ongoing education and training in culturally and linguistically appropriate service delivery. Early childhood practitioners/early childhood service providers should develop participatory, collaborative partnerships with communities and utilize a variety of formal and informal mechanisms to facilitate community and family-centered involvement to ensure that services are delivered in a manner that is consistent with the National Standards on Culturally and Linguistically Appropriate Services and/or the National Recommendations on Cultural and Linguistic Competence for the National Association for the Education of Young Children.

Scholarships other than TEACH
CDA, Associate in Arts and Associate in Science Degrees
Standards of Practice

Research has demonstrated that young children perform better when their teachers have a quality education which includes college coursework in early care and education and are well compensated. In Arizona less than half of all teachers of young children have either two or four year degrees. Of those that do, few have degrees in child development or early childhood education. Early care and education professionals often make little more than minimum wage and receive few or no benefits. Low wages present a major barrier to encouraging high-quality, well-educated, and well-trained personnel to enter and remain in the field. High turnover rates, up to 50 percent in many centers, significantly impact continuity of care and create attachment difficulties for children. Scholarships for college-credit coursework are one method of creating access to higher education for a low-income workforce that lacks the financial means to afford college. Scholarships enable the early childhood workforce to take coursework leading to credentials and degrees by making it possible for them to afford the expense of going to school.

Scholarships must adhere to the following qualifications:

- Scholarships can only be awarded for an accredited Arizona public institution of higher education.
- The College or University must have an established Early Care and Education (ECE) program that provides academic advisement to its students by an Early Care and Education faculty or advisor, and that offers coursework that leads to a degree in early care and education.
- The college must demonstrate that its ECE students are making adequate progress towards receiving their degrees/certificates. Adequate progress is defined as successfully completing 67 percent of courses enrolled during one academic school year.

Agencies disbursing college credit scholarships will:

- Develop criteria for scholarship awards and establish recruitment processes for potential scholars.
- Ensure scholarship applicants are at least 18 years of age and have a high school diploma or GED, or are high school students currently participating in an early care and education course of study through their high schools.
- Ensure that individuals receiving scholarships either work, volunteer or live in the region.
- Identify outreach and access opportunities for engaging potential scholarship applicants.
- Ensure that every scholarship recipient works with an Early Childhood Education advisor or faculty member to develop an individual professional development education pathway/plan and pursues, at an appropriate rate, the early care and education coursework that accomplishes that pathway/plan.
• Make available financial aid assistance, or utilize financial aid advisors at local colleges and universities to provide financial aid assistance to scholarship recipients.
• Confirm that each scholarship recipient has exhausted other forms of financial aid including completion of Federal Financial Aid Program (FAFSA).
• Ensure official written letters/notices of denial or ineligibility/unavailability of additional educational funding sources are submitted (and on file) by scholarship applicants prior to scholarship award.
• Process requests and distribute funding in a timely manner.
• Ensure that scholarship recipients complete a college placement test.
• Conduct scholarship application reviews and make scholarship award recommendations.
• Ensure that all coursework meet the requirements for either the National Child Development Associate (CDA) credential and/or the certificate of completion or 2-year degree in early childhood education.
• Ensure scholarship recipients enroll in and complete courses paid for by the scholarship with a grade of “C” or better, and provide documentation of grades received for all coursework paid for through the scholarship in order to remain eligible for continued funding.
• Ensure scholarship recipients must pay for any coursework that must be retaken because of failure to achieve a minimum grade of “C” or for withdrawing after the refundable add/drop period.
• Provide the Regional Partnership Council with reports outlining awards made and written updates for each semester indicating the numbers, and amount of scholarships awarded.
• “To address cultural competency objectives, early childhood practitioners/early childhood service providers shall ensure that children and families receive from all staff members effective, understandable, and respectful care that is provided in a culturally competent manner-a manner compatible with their cultural beliefs and practices and preferred language. Early childhood practitioners/early childhood service providers should ensure that staff at all levels and across all disciplines receive ongoing education and training in culturally and linguistically appropriate service delivery. Performance Measures

Program Specific Data Collection
Grantees will be provided with data reporting requirements by First Things First and will meet the requirements of the evaluation including, but not limited to, timely and regular reporting and cooperation with all First Things First evaluation activities. Timely and regular reporting of all performance and evaluation data including the electronic submission (through First Things First secure web portal known as PGMS) of data identified in data reporting templates (which will follow the First Things First general orientation).

First Things First reporting requirements will be aligned with the Goals, Key Measures, and Performance Measures identified in each Scope of Work. The purpose of the First Things First data submission is to determine the extent to which the program has accomplished the stated goals and key measures, through reporting on program implementation as well as program outcomes (as appropriate and identified in the performance measures).

Grantees agree to participate in the First Things First evaluation and any program specific evaluation or research efforts. Grantees are required to collaborate with the First Things First longitudinal evaluation. The provider must participate in child assessment activities associated with the longitudinal evaluation including tracking and reporting to First Things First data pertaining to participant attendance, enrollment, and demographic information; all of which must be maintained in a secure and confidential manner. In addition, Grantees agree to follow First Things First and evaluation consultants of First Things First to observe program activities on site and obtain parent consent for data collection related to evaluation efforts.

Performance Measures are defined by First Things First to determine the key impacts of the strategies, programs and approaches being implemented. Grantees will collect and report data to First Things First on the progress of achieving the Performance Measures. Grantees will receive training on specific reporting requirements. Reporting requirements will be detailed and specific and aligned with the performance measures. Data must be submitted in its raw form (e.g., number of children served/proposed service number = 52 actual children served/50 proposed service number). Based on specific strategic objectives, data will be reported for subgroups, for example, one group of strategies may require reporting of the number of children from birth through five, whereas other strategies will need to report numbers broken down to number of infants, toddlers, and preschoolers. An additional example would be for type of Early Care provider or enrollment status. Examples of subgroups of Early Care providers are licensed with the Arizona Department of Health Services, accredited, regulated by Tribal authorities, etc; examples of family enrollment statuses are newly enrolled, continuing enrollment, disenrolled.

Performance Measures for purposes of this Agreement are as follows:

1. Number of professionals working in early care and education pursuing a CDA in early childhood/proposed service numbers.
2. Number of professionals pursuing a CDA in early childhood/actual service number.
3. Number of college credits held by professionals/proposed service numbers.
4. Number of college credits held by professionals/actual service numbers.

Governing Board Meeting Minutes
September 21, 2010 – 11:00 a.m.
2251 East Navajo Boulevard, Holbrook, Arizona, 86025

Governing Board Member Present: Bill Jeffers, Ginny Handorf, E.L. Parsons, Daniel Peaches and A.T. Sinquah

Staff Present: President, Dr. Jeanne Swarthout; Vice President, Blaine Hatch; Vice President, Mark Vest; Information Services Director, Eric Bishop; Recording Secretary to the Board, Russell Dickerson.

Agenda Item 1: Call to Order and Pledge of Allegiance
Chairman Jeffers called the meeting to order at 11:00 a.m. Mr. Sinquah led the Pledge of Allegiance.

Agenda Item 2: Adoption of Agenda
Mr. Peaches moved to adopt the agenda as presented. Mr. Parsons seconded the motion. The vote was unanimous in the affirmative.

Agenda Item 3: Call for Public Comment
NPC Foundation Executive Director, Lance Chugg rescinded his request to speak as he was able to address the Board in the study session.

Agenda Item 4: Reports
4.A. – Financial Position – Vice President Hatch
Mr. Hatch reported that the first month, or 8% of the 2010-11 fiscal year has expired. Mr. Hatch reported that the primary tax levy has, to date, brought in approximately $116,000, or 1%, and reflects expectations for this point in the year. Mr. Hatch reported that the first quarter allocation of State aid has been received, tuition and fees are at 8% and on target for the month of July, and investment earnings are at 13% and much closer to target amounts following significant reductions from last year’s budget amounts. Mr. Hatch reported that total revenues in the general fund are at 12% and total just over $2.8 million and expenditures are at just under $1 million, or 5% and are on target. Mr. Hatch reported that unrestricted plant fund expenditures total about $8,500 and that fund revenues, consisting primarily of a transfer from the general fund and a small amount of investment earnings, are used to fund capital expenditures. Mr. Hatch reported that restricted fund revenues total just over $77,000 and expenditures total just under $31,000 for a net gain in revenues through July. Mr. Hatch noted that adjustments have been made to the auxiliary fund following an elimination of a college operated bookstore and the addition of Business and Industry Training and Community Education revenues and expenditures into the auxiliary fund. Mr. Hatch reported that auxiliary fund revenues total just under $52,000, with almost $6,000 in transfers and expenditures total $51,975. Mr. Hatch concluded by reporting that net cash for all activities totals $2.1 million.

Responding to a Board question, Mr. Hatch explained that the majority of tuition and fee revenue does not appear until the beginning of the semester and added that in July, the college does not require tuition payments for the fall semester and at that time, has not issued financial aid awards. Mr. Hatch offered to submit a chart for Board review that shows when tuition and fees are received over the course of the academic year.

4.B. – NPC CASO – Ina Sommers
Ina Sommers, CASO President, presented two fliers the organization is distributing in order to seek donations that will fund student scholarships. Ms. Sommers reported that last semester, CASO members contributed $61 per pay period as compared to $4 per pay period this semester. Ms. Sommers commented that this reduction in contributions may reflect the current economic downturn and reported that the fund raising drive for this year will be open to all NPC employees and not be limited to only CASO members. Ms. Sommers reported that last semester, approximately $1,500 in textbook reimbursement scholarships were awarded to CASO members. Ms. Sommers reported that CASO will hold the annual professional development retreat on October 22, 2010. Ms. Sommers reported that the first draft of the revised CASO bylaws have been forwarded to Mr. Hatch for review.

4.C. – NPC Faculty Association – Gary Mack
Gary Mack, NPC Mathematics Department Chair and NPC Faculty Association President, reported that the association met and discussed recent enrollment trends and the primary focus so far has been to populate the NPC college committees for the 2010-11 academic year. Mr. Mack reported that the Faculty Association is working to form a salary negotiation committee that will address recent salary freezes and cuts with the goal of realizing some positive movement on the salary scale.
