Honor Health has six acute care hospitals in the Phoenix area, including a new hospital in Scottsdale. They are magnet-recognized at all their medical centers. They also have 70+ medical group locations. They are a federal contractor, so their hiring process is a little more thorough and may take a few weeks longer than expected. Their nurse residency program is currently under redevelopment. You don't apply to the nurse residency program separately, instead you apply for the job opportunity you want, and they will automatically enroll new grad nurses into their residency program.

The presenter goes into a lot of detail about Honor Health including their application process and the benefits they offer.
